SUMMER'S GONE BY THE HON. MUS SORTON. Hark, through the dim woods dying, With a moan,

Faintly the winds are sighing -Summer's gone! There when my bruised heart teeleth, And the pule moon her face revealeth,

Darkly my footstep stealeth To weep alone, Hour after hour I wander

By men unseen-And sadly my young thoughts ponder On what hath been; Summer's gone !

There in our own green bowers, Long ago. Our path through the tangled flowers

Trending slow ; Oft band in hand entwining-Oft side by side reclining ;-

We've watched in its crimson shining The sunset glow Dimly the sun now burneth

For me alone,-Spring after spring returneth, Thou art gone; Summer's gone!

Still on my warm cheek playeth The restless breeze; Still in its freshness stayeth Between the trees, Still the blue streamlet gushoth-Still the proud river rusheth-

Still the calm silence husbeth The heart's disease ; But who shall bring our meetings Back again?

Who shall recall thy greetings-Love in vain? Summer's gone!

"THY WILL BE DONE.

This was part of the prayer which our Lord taught bis disciples. It is beautiful, not only for its simplicity, but for its conciseness and comprehensiveness of meaning. It contains thoughts enough, if expanded, to fill volumes. We shall content ourselves with considering briefly what is the temper of mind which this prayer presupposes, and the propriety of its use.

Like many other passages of the New Testament it seems to express in a few words, all that is neeessary to constitute the sincere devoted Christian. The spirit which prompts it, is a spirit of true piety. It is the natural sentiment of a heart regenerated bands of God. It expresses a feeling of confidence in the goodness of God and his perfect justice. It is an expression of self-consecration, humble obedience, and meek submission to his will in all things. It exhibits a willingness to be what he would have us be, and to suffer patiently what he, in his righteous providence, may appoint. It is virtually saying that our time, our talents, our property, and all that we have are at his disposal, to be thing around us wears the smile of joy, and seems ment roll in upon the soul like the waves of the troubled sea, then is the time to act the christian. Then can the true disciple of Christ alone utter this prayer from the heart. He alone at such a time can wipe away the falling tear, and exclaim with a smile-"My Father ordered all. Thy will, O God, be done "

The propriety of using this prayer will be evident, when we consider, 1st, The character of the being to whom it is addressed, and 2d, The character of the suppliant.

It is addressed to no other than God himself -It is offered to H'm who seeth the future as the past-whose eye scanneth eternity at a glance, and who orders all the events of all times with the strictest justice. It is addressed to Him who

"Laid Eternity's foundation stone, and saw Life and existence out of Three begin-Who guides the circuit of the endless years, And sits on high, and makes Creation's top His footstool and beholds below him all-

All nought, all less than nought, and vanity." Such is the character of Him to whom this i addressed. And by whom is it offered? It is offered by a short-sighted, dependent mortal-by an ephemeral insect, who struts a brief hour of existence here; and then disappears. Yesterday, and he was not. To-day he exists, and to-morrow is forgotten. He opens his eyes upon the objects around him, and discovers evident indications of a being superior to himself. Revelation casts a ray of light into his gloomy, bewildered soul, and shows him that there is a God, an eternity, a heaven and a hell; and it teaches him the way to secure the one and avoid the other. Beyond this all is dark-shrouded in uncertainty. How natural it is for such an one to desire some support on which he may lean with confidence and trust? How natural that in viewing his own weakness, he should want some friend to be his guide and counsellor! God is such a friend. He invites him to come and cast his all upon Him, and to say, "Thy will be done." He requires a vile worm of the dust to acknowledge the right of Infinite wisdom to rule! Is any thing more reasonable? Should we not rejoice that the government of the universe is placed in such hands? Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? And who are we that we should presume to dictate laws to the Almighty! Alas! Proud man. It is only through the forbearance of God that you are not in a condition a thousand times worse than you now are. Cease to murmur then, and learn to adore the goodness of Him from whom you have received every thing that you have, and to whom you are indebted for every thing that you are. Do we feel the hand of afflicsion pressing heavily upon us? We have the premise that our light afflictions shall work out for

ry. Are near and dear friends removed from us by the hand of death? It may be for our good, that we may feel our dependence on God, and show us the vanity of all earthly things in affording us present happiness. Are we deprived of the society of those we love? There is consolation in the thought that the hand of the Lord is in it, and red to will observe that is almost every case they that He who seeth the end from the beginning will order all things well. God's ways may be mysterious to us, yet they are wive; they may be beyond our feeble comprehension, yet they are just and good Let us then rejoice that God is our Father and best friend, and that he who exceth for the sparrow, and "tempereth the wind to the shore three decatamb," eareth also for us. And whatever may be the lot or station which he shall appoint for us, let us ever evince the Chri-tian spirit of reconciliation, and say, Thy will be done.

Dated this 2d day of September, A. D. 1840. CHARLES KINGSBURY, Commmissioners. JACOB BATES,

By the British Queen, HICH arrived in New York Nov. 23d, we received an interesting letter from Mr. J. Morrison written at the British College of Health, London, where the medicine of which we speak is made. Mr Morrison thinks that the reason that many in this country are so 'ang in being cured of old seated Diseases, is 'that they do not take large doses enough, and who is a better judge than he who has for years HADE and ADMINISTERED the MEDICINE and OBSERVED Its EFFECTS. We believe by divine grace, and willing to trust its all in the this reason, the true one. In cases of Typus Fever bilious Complaints, Cholera Morbus, Consumption Rheumatism, particularly INFLAMATORY RHEUMATISM,

Dropsy, Small Pox, Tic Douloureaux, FEVERS OF ALL KINDS, and in many other diseases, in their worst stages there should be doses of 10, 15, 20, 30 and even more Pills administered at 'A DOSE." It is done with great success all over Europe, and THERE IS where the medicine is Most successful. We conversed with a gentleman in this town, in August last, it was Mr John Morrison son of Mr James used as he shall direct. In times of prosperity, it is not difficult to offer this prayer. When every here, whilst on his travels through the states; he informed us that he was once prostrated by a fever, to be conducive to our happiness, we feel as if it was his will to make us happy and we rejoice; but when adversity comes, and sorrow and disappoint. when adversity comes, and sorrow and disappoint. save him, and commenced with (30) thirty No 2 Pills, these did not have the desired effect, and he gave him doses of sixty No 2 Pills and continued these doses for several days until he was out of danger. Virulent discuses require large doses-

Mr Lemuel Curtis, known by all in this town & vicinity, was laid up with Inflamatory Rheumatism, bad to be lifted into and out of bed; his limbs were swollen very large, his pains were very acute, he had been trying various things without relief; by es, he sent to us for a $1 package of Morrisons Medicines and by them was cured. We had this information from Mr Curtis he is here and can be enquired of concerning it. Mrs Johnson, known to most of the inhabitants of Burlignton, was laid up with the same disease, Inflamatory Rheumatism and could get no relief, she sent to us for a package of Morrison's Medicine, and says 'when I had ta ken the fifth dose the swellings and the pains be- trouble. gan to leave me, and those only who have had this disease, can realize the happiness of ABSENT PAIN.

Merrison's Pill cured Mrs Johnson. We often think we never will publish another word about Medicine, but situated as we are, where we have incontestible evidence of the intrinsic worth of Morrison's Pills and see that they do cure tried vegitable medicine, which cure if persevered in, and used aright; we call upon Hygeists to renew nterests, to take agencies if they are needed in their vicinity, to circulate the phamphlets, Books and Medicine. 'Truth is mighty and will prevail.
EXPERIENCE has established Hygeism.' Many through ignorance, and prejudice, neglect to use this, Medicine; when had they used it, would have been doubly blest. PANGBORN & BRINSMAIL
